

On Saturday, April 24, Lake Wylie Covekeepers talked to attendees of York County's Earth Day festivities. During the event, youth participated in a community art project called "Put Yourself in the Catawba", where anyone could paint on a sketched riverscape of the river. Nearly 200 youth stopped by and contributed to the riverscape throughout the day.

